

Regent College London

Student Charter

As your education provider, Regent College London will:

- Provide a high-quality educational experience.
- Treat you in a courteous, fair, just and legal manner.
- Provide a safe and tolerant environment free from harassment and discrimination of any kind.
- Promote equality and respect diversity amongst students in line with our Equality and Diversity Policy.
- Not tolerate any form of harassment and bullying, in line with our Anti-Harassment and Anti-Bullying Policy and Procedure.
- Report any instances of sexual harassment and misconduct to the proper authorities, and secure support from appropriate support networks; there is a zero tolerance to such incidents.
- Ensure that students are fit to study, in line with our Fitness to Study Policy.
- Support freedom of speech in line with our published Code of Practice.
- Adhere to our Terms and Conditions and Tuition Fee Refund and Compensation Policy
- Provide a range of high quality and accessible facilities, resources and services.
- Give access to up-to-date, accurate and relevant information about the College and its services before you enrol for a course, including fees and other course related costs, programme details, assessment methods, admissions and enrolment procedures.
- Provide a full induction programme both for your course and to the College more widely.
- Provide you with access to your Student Handbook, programme/course and module/unit information and other sources which contain information on the aims and objectives of the programme/course, individual modules/units, methods of study, assessment details, module/unit choices (where relevant), and relevant policies, procedures and assessment regulations.
- Use approved communication channels including a virtual learning environment (VLE), in order to provide up-to-date and accurate information.
- Identify key College staff and their areas of responsibility so that you know who to contact for advice and guidance.
- Provide access to tutorials, study skills and pastoral care systems with provision for a wide range of academic, pastoral and career-orientated content.
- Provide a range of opportunities for you to enhance your employability and develop transferable skills.
- Help you to participate fully in academic life.
- Manage your assessment in line with the awarding organisation's regulations and in accordance with published examination and assessment guidelines and criteria.
- Give timely and constructive feedback for both formative and summative assessments.
- Ensure that students are represented at all levels via the student representative system, and to review the effectiveness of the system on a regular basis.

- Provide opportunities for you to give feedback about the quality of the programmes, facilities and services that you receive, and respond to your feedback in a clear and transparent manner, acting upon it wherever possible.
- Provide access to student support services for all students that need it.
- Safeguard all personal information and comply with the requirements of the Data Protection Act 2018.
- Ensure the College is fully compliant with consumer protection law.
- Provide a clear and accessible complaints procedure.

As a student at Regent College London, you are expected to:

- Actively engage with your studies, including by attending all synchronous teaching and learning sessions. If you are unable to attend a particular session, then you should inform us using the recognised absence reporting procedure.
- Act responsibly in your use of all College premises and facilities, complying with any guidance or regulations governing their use and respecting the needs of other users.
- Familiarise yourself with information regarding your studies in handbooks, course/programme information and unit/module guides as well as complying with all College regulations, policies and procedures.
- Take part in induction activities at the start of your course.
- Understand and abide by your obligations for paying course fees by meeting all deadlines for the payment of fees, understanding that non-payment will result in your place being withdrawn.
- Take responsibility for your own learning and undertake all course-related work that is assigned to you, ensuring that you devote sufficient time for self-directed learning and study.
- Familiarise yourself with, and abide by, all published examination timetables and assessment deadlines, and submit work for assessment on time.
- Regularly check the College's virtual learning environment (and University Partner web portals relevant to your course) and other communication channels, including your College email address and Regent Digital.
- Be aware that you are a member of a diverse community where equality of opportunity is promoted and diversity is valued.
- Conduct yourself in a polite, courteous, and responsible manner at all times, and refrain from misconduct, such as those examples set out in the Student Disciplinary Procedure.
- Abide by the College's Anti-Harassment and Anti-Bullying Policy.
- Be aware that participating in any form of sexual harassment or misconduct, verbally, digitally, or in person, breaks UK law, and will be accordingly reported to the proper authorities.
- Take reasonable care for your own safety and the safety of others, both on and off College premises.
- Seek academic and pastoral support and guidance when you need it.
- Tell us about any circumstances that may affect your engagement with your studies.
- Provide us with up-to-date details for your student records (e.g. your address) and tell us promptly when these details change.
- Take part in the election of student representatives.
- Take part in opportunities to provide feedback on the quality of the educational provision and services you receive.

Version number	3.4
Publication date	July 2023
Approved by	Academic Council
Approval date	5 July 2023
Next review date	July 2024
Policy owner	Director of Operations